THE HON'BLE SRI JUSTICE R.SUBHASH REDDY

W.P.No.8552 of 2005

D.L.S.R.Satish .....Petitioner

vs.

The Registrar, Nagarjuna University, Nagarjuna Nagar, Guntur and another.

.....Respondents.

THE HON'BLE SRI JUSTICE R.SUBHASH REDDY

W.P.No.8552 of 2005

O R D E R:

The petitioner in the writ petition seeks issuance of a writ of mandamus declaring the action of the official respondents in not revaluing the entire answer script of the examination in Heat Transfer Subject of III Year 2nd Semester B.Tech., course, as illegal and arbitrary.

2) The petitioner is a student of engineering in Mechanical Branch and appeared for III year 2nd Semester examinations and in the subject of Heat Transfer, he was originally awarded 11 marks. But, however, he had applied for revaluation. After revaluation, he was awarded 16 marks. The only ground on which the writ petition is filed is that even in the revaluation, the additional sheets were not revalued by the respondents.

3) The learned counsel Sri P.Harinath Gupta, appearing for the respondent-University has produced the original records of answer scripts and revaluation scripts and I have perused the same. The record reveals that even the additional answer sheets attached to the main answer sheet have been revalued and marks were awarded. In that view of the matter, the allegation of the petitioner that his entire answer scripts were not valued, has no basis. The writ petition, therefore, is devoid of merit.

4) In the result, the Writ Petition is dismissed. No costs.

JUSTICE R.SUBHASH REDDY

3rd April, 2007.
